

Summary of research findings: Study vs Part Timer Work

Author/s

Pavithran A/L Gunasegaran & Roslinah Mahmud
Faculty of Business, Economics and Accountancy
Universiti Malaysia Sabah

Objective

This research is primarily focused on the factors or reasons that lead 100 students in to work while studying at the same time. This study also tries find out main obstacles that UMS students have faced when they work while studying at the same time. This study only using descriptive analysis.

Findings

1. Reasons to work while studying

In view of the chart above, 68% of UMS students most likely choose to be financially independent as the reason of working while studying. UMS students who choose to support their family as their main reason to work while studying are made up of 22%. Aside from that, only 10% of UMS students has choose to improve skills as the reason for work while studying.

2. Person who influences UMS students to work while studying

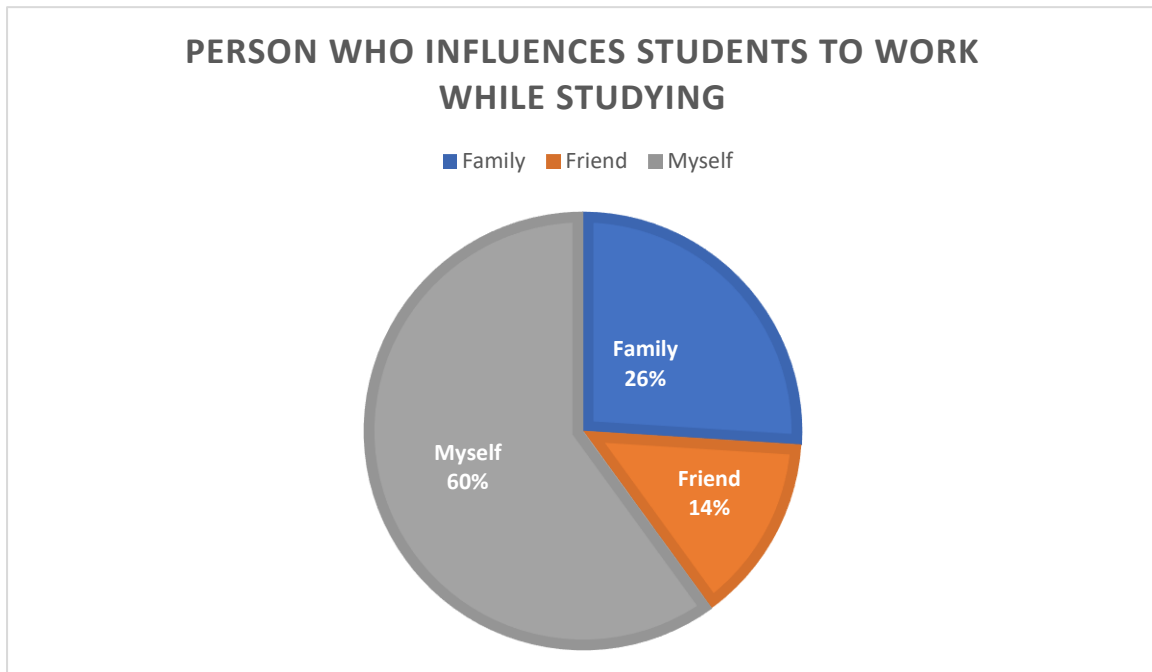

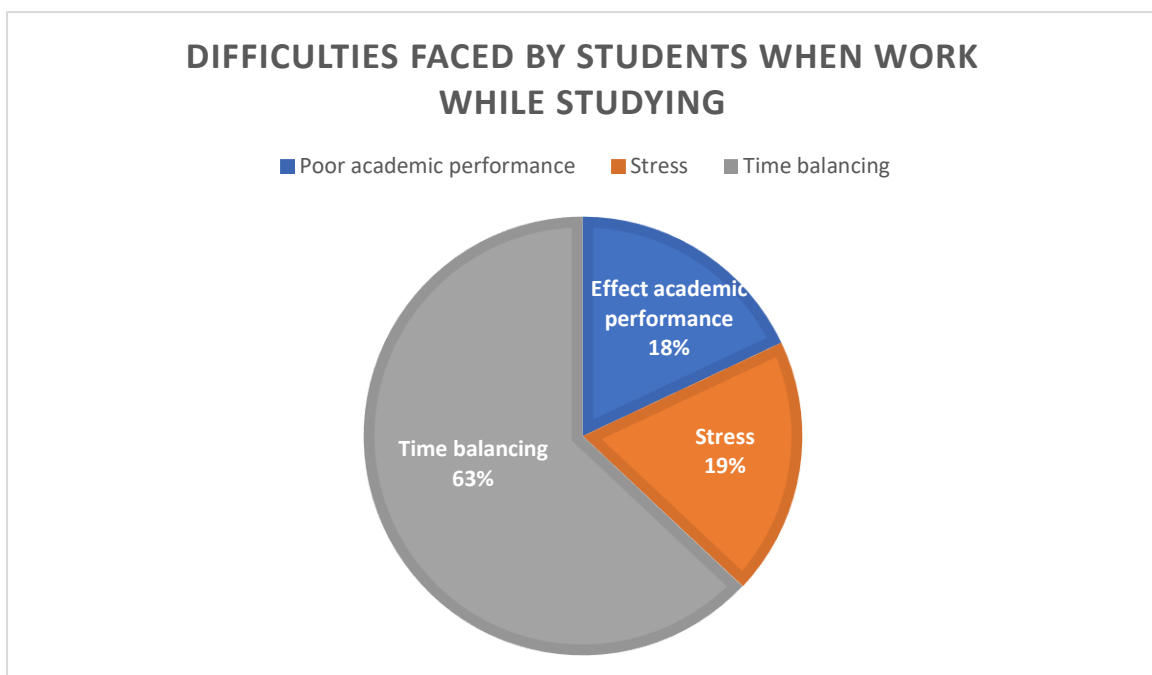

Chart above shows the percentage of person who influences UMS students to work while studying. Most of the students said themselves as the person who influences them to work while studying which made up of 60%. While, family members that influence UMS students to work while studying is made up of 26%. Moreover, friends play the least role in influencing as it only incurred 14 percent out of 100.

3. Difficulties faced by students when work while studying

Based on the chart above, the difficulties faced by most of the students when work while studying are time balancing which made up of 63%. While there are about 19% of the student went through difficulties which is stress when they work while studying. In addition, there are about 18% of the student went through difficulties which is effect to academic performance when they work while studying.

Conclusion

It is reasonable to assume that university students have been experiencing the difficulties of working while still studying. They seemed entirely realize the significance or working while at the same time studying and its consequences. The spur driving doing this is primarily because of financial reason, self-improvement and looking for work experiences for their future. There are positive and negative effects of working while at the same time studying at university. Hence, recommendations for students who need to work while studying are to be dependable and have great time management.

References

Pavithran A/L Gunasegaran.2020. Factors That Leads UMS Students to Work While Studying. Faculty Business, Economics and Accountancy. Universiti Malaysia Sabah.