

“Enrouting to Be a Sought-after Opportunity Maker”

19 December 2022

Students in GT00503 Business Communication [Semester 1, S2022/2023] had the opportunity to listen Ms. Juliana discuss what it takes to be an “opportunity-maker” and how this relates to job interviews.

As she believes it would be impossible to adequately define “opportunity makers” in a single sentence, she quoted her own knowledge and experiences to explain “opportunity-makers”, as follows:

- evaluating oneself and what can be offered to an organization, focusing on best qualities and distinctiveness.
 - Take a brief online course (free or paid) if you lack the necessary skills. Example: first aid
- Engaging in new activities, acquiring new knowledge, and expanding network.
- Strengthening soft skill as this is crucial to complement both technical and personal abilities

Visit link:

https://m.facebook.com/story.php?story_fbid=pfbid0LmtS3gJv2KjVQG5t21DLpugZWMzZQRQ9oofbS4JXLfnqptUyhn7DtTiut3CGf2p4I&iid=554878154&sfnsn=mo&mibextid=RUBZIf

Take-aways on how to be more prepared for a job interview

Source: Juliana Jimis 19 Dec 2022