Explanation about ESP Soy Protein can help in relieving and reducing gastric pain?

For information, ESP Shaklee is a source of protein produced from NON-GMO soybeans.

- Soybeans are a plant that is high in alkaline properties - Can neutralize the acidity in the stomach secreted by the stomach glands.
- ESP Shaklee has a high protein content - Can help the digestive system work better because our digestive system starts working when there is a protein element in the stomach.
- ESP Shaklee can replace milk- Which is great for helping rebuild, restore and replace damaged cells with new cells in the lining of the stomach mucosa that has been damaged and thinned by acid erosion.

This Shaklee ESP drink can also provide energy to gastric patients who are often tired and lethargic. Plus, it makes you feel full longer!
